Digital Literacy Workshops for people with disability

In February the Town of Victoria Park is coming out to Cloverdale state office to deliver alongside Mission Australia two workshops to help support participants and/or their carers and family around improving their digital skills and know how. We know last year a lot of people struggled to get online, know how to use their device or to connect socially online and we want to try remedy this issue!

- Session one will cover; the absolute basics and getting to know your device.
- Session two will cover; getting started online, safety first and accessing the NDIS portal which will be delivered by one of our LACs.

Important Information:

- Both workshops are free but bookings are essential. Making a booking registers you for BOTH workshops and we encourage people to attend both – they come as set!
- Places are limited and attendees are encouraged to bring in their own laptops, phones, I-pads or tablets to the workshops. If people do require a laptop however you can let us know as there are a limited amount available for the purpose of these workshops.
- If you have any specific questions, accessibility requirements or will be bringing a carer or family member along with you also please advise us.
